"Tell It Like It Is: Communicate" was the theme of the annual meeting of Federation XVI of the Future Homemakers of America last Saturday on the Henderson State College campus in Arkadelphia.

Twenty-five Southwest Arkansas FHA chapters were represented with 565 girls registering for the program. Hope was represented by 48 members of the local chapter of 121.

Miss Marjorie Royston of Hope was one of the featured speakers. Margie, a senior at Ouachita Baptist University and Miss Congeniality of the 1970 Miss Arkansas Pageant, urged the girls to be sincere and really work to achieve understanding through communication.

Nancy Ross of Blevins wowed the group as a talent feature. She played the piano and sang two musical numbers. Yolanda Fellows of the Washington chapter led the group singing. Debbie Owens, president of the Hope chapter took part in the roll call.

Debbie Gunter of Hope accepted the gavel as new Federation XVI president in an impressive ceremony to climax the day's activities. Debbie will serve as president until July 1972. Margaret Turner of Blevins was installed as secretary. Also taking part was Judy York of Spring Hill as outgoing historian.

Accompanying the Hope girls were Mrs. Dean Murphy, chapter mother and Mrs. Helen Clark, Mrs. Estelle Spearman, and Mrs. Carole Lester, FHA sponsors.

Scott Shoo-in Over Any Conservative

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nose count of present and prospective Republican senators shows moderate Hugh Scott a shoo-in to beat any conservative attempt to unseat him as Senate GOP leader, according to a Republican senator.

"I just can't see—if the worst or the best happens—that we won't go into this thing with a lot more votes than we went into it with last time," said the senator who asked not to be named.

Scott beat Tennessee's Howard H. Baker Jr. 24 to 19 in last year's leadership contest. Baker and Robert J. Dole of Kansas both are reported considering a drive to oust Scott if Pennsylvania's voters, as expected, send him back to the Senate in November.

Without naming names, the source, who backs Scott, said the Pennsylvanian has nibbled away at Baker's forces without losing any of his own, and has support of more prospective new GOP senators than the opposition.

African Blond Spy for Cuba Is Sought

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A 26-year-old South African blonde was in hiding today following reports that she spied for Cuba while working at the South African Embassy in Washington.

Johannesburg newspapers said the girl, Jennifer Miles, had connections with the two Cuban diplomats at the United Nations who were recently kicked out of the United States for spying. The London Daily Express said she is also suspected of having connections with the Canadian terrorists who kidnapped and murdered Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte and are holding British diplomat James Cross.

"It is understood," said a Daily Express story from Washington, "that the FBI has the names of more than 100 men dated by Miss Miles while she worked for the Cuban spy organization. The names include those of many junior U.S. officials and diplomats at several embassies in Washington."

Miss Miles worked at the South African Embassy from April 1969 until last month, when she came to Johannesburg and went to work as a secretary at a carpet concern. She quit her job Tuesday and moved out of her Johannesburg apartment Wednesday. Her last employer said he had "no idea" what had happened to her.

The newspaper Die Transvaler said it had traced her but that she was noncommittal about the reports and asked: "Why don't you speak to Gen. Hendrik van den Bergh?"

Van den Bergh, head of the state security bureau, would say only that "Miss Miles is known to the bureau."

Local newspapers said the young woman, who was born in Kimberley, the diamond center, spent more than a year in Canada studying an underground network that ferries Canadian extremists and members of the Black Power movement to Cuba for training.

While vacationing in Cuba in December 1967, they said, she was recruited to spy for the Cuban directorate of intelligence.

The papers said she went to work in 1969 as political secretary for the first secretary of the South African Embassy in Washington. But in Pretoria, a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry said she was appointed locally in Washington for a non-diplomatic job.

The U.S. State Department announced Oct. 9 that two Cuban diplomats at the United Nations were being expelled for recruiting a "quite attractive and personable" employe of a Washington embassy to gather intelligence information. The department did not name the girl or identify the embassy, but Washington correspondents of the South African newspapers reported American sources said the girl was Miss Miles and her code name was Mary.

The newspaper reports said Miss Miles broke down when confronted by FBI agents last month and made a long statement giving them information about the Cuban spy network and underground routes to Havana.

The reports also said she led FBI agents to a meeting she had in a Long Island bar with Rogelio Rodriguez Lopez, counselor at Cuba's U.N. mission and one of the two Cubans later expelled.

Peace.

We Arkansans can rejoice that our state has come through a very trying and sensitive period in our nation's history with very little civil disorder.

Isolated problems have occurred from time to time, but we have kept them under strict control. Every necessary step has been taken to prevent and stop the sort of senseless violence that has occurred elsewhere in the nation.

Although largely unseen, largely unnoticed, this is perhaps the greatest accomplishment of my administration—the absence of large scale civil disorder.

Many times I have worked late into the night with government officials—and with community leaders—to alleviate problems that could have produced violence. When problems arose, we went onto a round-the-clock operation with our first objective simply to get people on one side to talk to people on the other.

Communication . . . Getting groups together in the same room . . . These are keys to defusing most situations. Once both sides are persuaded they should talk to one another, we are halfway home.

Call it leadership; call it determination and persistence—we did what we set out to do. And violence was stopped by the people themselves before it got out of hand.

I will not tolerate lawlessness. I will not tolerate grandstand plays. But in any dispute, I will go the extra mile to listen, to try new solutions, and to keep the channels of communication open.

I am proud of the fact that since I took office, Arkansans have lived in peace. Law enforcement has been firm, yet restrained. And it has been effective.

In a time of turmoil throughout the nation, Arkansas can hold its head high.

Carts wait in sunny Bordeaux vineyards to be loaded with grapes at harvest time. Upper right, the last one rolls quietly home, empty, at the end of the golden day.

THE VINTAGE

The vintage in Bordeaux, France, is a time of high excitement and hard work. Students from many countries come to toil in the sun beside the gypsies who arrive each year for the grape harvest, joining the people of Bordeaux whose lives have been bound up in the vineyards for generations. There are student travelers from America, too, who often make the harvesting of French wines part of their holiday, perhaps at the end of a roving summer abroad.

Many vineyards have special dormitories for students, while the hardy just camp out. It's a tradition that during the harvest all the workers are given hearty lunches and dinners on the property, with the wives and daughters of the chateau owners as volunteer cooks. There are festivals and banquets before the harvest, to celebrate the coming vintage. But, finally, there is the work. And one of the many things students learn from the grape harvest is that in Bordeaux—France's largest wine district—wine is serious business.

Picking grapes in Bordeaux: a time of warmth, gaiety and hard work.

Judy Dorsan of San Francisco and Eloise Loyal of Grenoble, France, represent international student teamwork at the grape harvest.

These two Bordeaux ladies have been helping with the harvest for over 50 years.

The work calls for a strong back...

... the reward is the good wine.

Man Accused in Slaying Under Guard

By DOUG WILLIS
Associated Press Writer
SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Armed guards in pairs are posted around the clock at each corner of the building in which a young man is jailed on charges of slaying five persons execution-style.

Sheriff Douglas James and his deputies said they know of no threats against John Linley Frazier, 24, but are taking no chances.

Frazier pleaded innocent Friday at a tightly guarded arraignment on charges of murdering Dr. Victor Ohta, 45, his wife, Virginia, 43, their sons Derrick, 12, and Taggart, 11, and the eye surgeon's secretary, Dorothy Cadwallader, 38.

The armed deputies were stationed at the three-story downtown building housing the jail and sheriff's office a few minutes after Frazier was booked there on five counts of first-degree murder.

Deputies admitted only persons "with urgent and necessary business." Flood lights were installed for extra security.

Sheriff Douglas B. James' news conference was held outside to announce details of Frazier's capture at dawn Friday in a former "one-cow milk barn" a half-mile from the Ohtas' $250,000 flagstone mansion on a hilltop overlooking Monterey Bay.

Frazier had lived about two months in the shabby 6-by-6-foot shelter in a gulley strewn with wrecked automobile bodies, an investigator said. He was asleep and offered no resistance when captured by two deputies.

A deputy explained the security measures by saying, "We've never had a prisoner like this before."

HIGHWAY BOOBY TRAPS condemn motorists to death or serious injury, according to the Ohio Defense Association and the Ohio Claims Association. The two organizations are joined in a campaign to remove or correct hazards such as the above. Top left photo shows two traps: Steel pole should be behind guard rail and railing itself should extend to bridge abutment with near end buried in ground instead of jutting out like a spear. As things are, guard rail might deflect skidding car into steel pole. At right, end of guard rails could impale a skidding auto; it should be buried in ground. Steel post is unnecessary; sign could have been mounted on overpass. Bottom left photo shows "V" section called "gore area" because its accident rate is four times higher than most run-off-the-road accident locations. Steel post could have been set behind rail at extreme right with signs cantilevered over exit ramp. End of rail should be buried in ground instead of pointed like a missile toward errant car.

Everyone Voted for Bond Issue

CALIFORNIA VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A unanimous vote was cast in this agricultural community for a $350,000-bond issue to put up power lines.

The San Luis Obispo County clerk, Ruth Warnken, said it was the first time that a bond issue in the county had carried unanimously.

Twenty-nine of the area's 34 registered voters cast ballots.

Agnew Insists Inflation Is Under Control

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says inflation is under control but critics of the Nixon administration "jump at a one-month wobble" in the consumer price index to try to panic voters.

Pollution Meet Hurt by Fire

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A new county air pollution control law forced cancellation of the traditional homecoming week-end bonfire at Clark High School. So about 700 students will light candles—clean burning ones, they say—on the practice field where the bonfire had been held in years past.

Nurses Using Drugs, Long Hours Blamed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The executive secretary of the state Board of Nursing says many nurses in the state have become addicted to drugs because of shortage of nurses.

Mrs. Juanita Glenn told the Legislative Council Thursday that some nurses must work 16 hours a day because of the shortage.

In doing so, Mrs. Glenn said, "some nurses are taking pills to keep going during the day, and then taking another pill to calm them down for the little time that they have off."

Board President Mrs. Nell T. Balkman, in explaining why the board needed to increase its fees for licensing nurses, told the council there was increased prosecution of nurses for violations of drug laws.

Mrs. Balkman said that Arkansas has the lowest number of nurses per capita in the nation and said that some nurses had been found completely addicted to drugs.

Mrs. Glenn said that 10 nurses had already had their licenses suspended for drug abuses and that 18 cases were pending before the board.

Mrs. Balkman said that some of the means of obtaining the drugs could lead to dangerous results and gave some examples:

—A nurse had vacated her post on an intensive-care floor and had locked herself in the bathroom, leaving the patients unattended, in order to inject herself with Demerol. Hospital officials broke open the bathroom door and found the nurse on the commode with a needle in her arm.

—One nurse was found to have been substituting nitroglycerin tablets for the morphine she was taking. The nitroglycerin tablets were almost used for a patient who had just received eye surgery. If the nitroglycerin tablets had been administered the person would have been blinded.

—In another case, a nurse was found to have administered Demerol in such a high quantity to a patient that the person almost died.

Mrs. Glenn said, however, that drug abuse by nurses in Arkansas was not as bad as in other states.

Farmers May Be Paid to Burn Marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government sources say the Nixon administration is considering paying farmers to destroy marijuana growing wild on their acreage.

The proposed marijuana control program reportedly could be financed with Justice Department funds channeled through the Agriculture Department's Agricultural Conservation Program.

Under ACP, farmers can get federal aid—usually for 50 per cent of expenditures—for carrying out approved conservation projects.

So far, the White House Office of Management and Budget has refused to authorize ACP projects, although Congress approved financing at a minimum of $190 million for next year.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has tried to get budget planners to change their minds. Part of his department's strategy has been to emphasize the administration's commitment to fight soil and water pollution.

"If ACP is cut out, there could be serious losses of federal employment in many areas," one government source says. "It is serious and hurting the Republicans in some congressional races."

Some officials estimate dropping ACP would mean the loss of 3,000 county agent jobs.

The source said "some influential Republicans" are working to salvage ACP.

Marijuana control ties into ACP with government efforts to fight the wild-growing weed in several states, mostly in the Midwest.

It is said to descend from marijuana crops grown during World War II when the nation needed a substitute for manila hemp.

Make-good Pot Camouflaged

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — Former Marine Sgt. C. L. Waldrep bought a metal pot at a post exchange while in Vietnam. On the container was a guarantee that the pot would be replaced if it failed in normal use.

Waldrep used the pot for shaving, stewing and just about everything until an enemy mortar attack put a hole through it. He wrote the manufacturer, Ware Ever Aluminum Co. of Chillicothe, Ohio, and asked for a new one. Mortar attacks are all too normal in Vietnam, he said.

The company sent the sergeant a new pot, painted in camouflage green and brown.

Waldrep and his pot are back home in Gastonia now.

Pilot Smashes Plane Into Church Shrine

SAN JUAN, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-three minutes after an anonymous radio warning that all Catholic and Methodist churches and schools in a wide area of the Lower Rio Grande Valley should be evacuated, a plane smashed into a Roman Catholic shrine here, killing the pilot.

Twenty-five priests and 40 worshippers were in the Shrine of the Virgin of San Juan Catholic Church when the aircraft plummeted into the roof of the sanctuary Friday. A hundred feet away, more than 100 elementary school children were midway through their noon lunch.

There were no serious injuries, but an ensuing fire destroyed the shrine, visited monthly by thousands of pilgrims.

Investigators said the plane was piloted by Frank Alexander, about 45, a former mathematics instructor at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo High School.

Alexander, rented the plane not long before the crash from Upper Valley Aviation Co. at McAllen. He was known as an excellent pilot who at times had served as a flying instructor.

Mrs. Nixon Has Simple Approach

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon has a simple approach to her political campaigning: "I like people and I would never be phony."

Ending a week of cross-country travel in behalf of Republican candidates, the President's wife said she was surprised some people think such campaigning is unusual for her.

She admits she has never been "clear around the country" on her own before, "but I've been in this since 1946." And she plans to be out again next week—in Indianapolis Wednesday and later in San Diego and San Francisco, Calif.

Asked how the campaign shapes up for Republicans, Mrs. Nixon said exuberantly: "It looks great."

Mrs. Nixon proved she's a pro on a day-long trip to Florida Thursday in which she shook hands with at least 2,000 people and got a warm welcome in return. She was given keys to two cities and the mayor proclaimed "Mrs. Richard M. Nixon Day" in Fort Myers.

She smiled, said "Hi, honey," patted hands, hugged youngsters, gave out autographs and 50 or so gold ball-point pens with her name on them, and posed for innumerable pictures with candidates and constituents.

It didn't matter that the main Senate candidate she came to promote—Rep. William C. Cramer—was off seeking votes elsewhere. Mrs. Nixon, touring with Mrs. Cramer, said, "I didn't expect him and knew he was going to be busy."

The day of campaigning left Mrs. Nixon looking unruffled, her blue-and-white silk print dress unwrinkled and her smile undisturbed.

"I'm not dwelling upon myself," she explained her campaign composure. She did admit her right hand was "all dented up" with fingernail scratches. But, "These things never bother me."

Her day in Florida included appearances at two receptions in Point Brittany and Fort Myers where she stood each time for about 90 minutes without letup, shaking hands.

"This is what I love," Mrs. Nixon said afterwards. "I love to have a word or two with people and have a word with their children. I love people and I think that I completely captivate them."

Sarver's TV Report Is Criticized

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver Thursday received the criticism he expected after his appearance Wednesday night on the Dick Cavett Show.

State Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott said Sarver had done Arkansas more harm than good and charged that some of the commissioner's remarks were misleading.

"I think he was performing for the television audience rather than telling the truth about Arkansas prisons," Hendrix said.

Sarver appeared on the American Broadcasting Co. television show under equal time provisions to rebut criticisms of the state penal system by former prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton, who appeared on the show last month.

Big 4 Seeks Ceasefire Extension

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Big Four powers have decided to press Egypt, Jordan and Israel to extend the Middle East cease-fire past its Nov. 5 expiration date. That done, they will work for a resumption of peace talks with an eye toward eventual settlement of hostilities.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant announced the decision Friday night after a 3½-hour working dinner in his office suite with Foreign Ministers Andrei A. Gromyko of the Soviet Union and Maurice Schumann of France, Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home of Britain, and U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers. Also present was Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, Thant's special representative for the Middle East.

The ministers were in New York for the 25th anniversary session of the United Nations. Jarring, Sweden's ambassador to Moscow, was recalled a week ago to try to resume his peace mission, which broke down Aug. 25 when Israel charged that Egypt was violating a military standstill agreement by moving anti-aircraft missiles toward the Suez Canal.

Thant's statement issued by a U.N. spokesman in his behalf, said:

"The four foreign ministers had a useful exchange of views with the secretary-general and Ambassador Jarring on the situation in the Middle East."

"They agreed to exert their utmost efforts to enable Ambassador Jarring to resume his mission at the earliest possible date; to search for possibilities through the agreement of the parties directly concerned to extend the observance of the cease-fire for a period to be determined; and to find a peaceful solution on the basis of Resolution 242 of the Security Council."

"The four powers will continue their consultations and their permanent representatives in New York will meet again on Oct. 28."

Resolution 242 set up conditions for a settlement and called for negotiations.

Since Aug. 25, Israel has repeatedly accused the Egyptians of violations. Cairo, rejecting the charges, has countered that Israel is fortifying positions within the standstill zone in violation of the plan.

The Big Four's chief U.N. delegates—Sir Colin Crowe of Britain, Ambassador Jacques Kossowski-Morizet of France, Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik and U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost—already had scheduled a meeting for Oct. 28 to discuss guidelines for Jarring's indirect talks. All four were present at Friday night's meeting.

Christianity Suffering From Nerves

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The newly elected president of the American Lutheran Church, the Rev. Dr. Kent S. Knutson, says Christianity "is suffering a state of nerves but it's still basically strong."

It has "pangs of despair and sometimes is discouraged by its inability to handle the tremendous problems which we see all about us," he said, "but the Church is a very tenacious institution—a very viable and stable kind of community that will endure for a very long time."

Barge Traffic Up on Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Army Engineers said Thursday that barges carried 2,345,209 tons of cargo on the Arkansas River in the first nine months of 1970, compared with 1,847,820 tons during the same period last year.

In 1969, the waterway's initial year of navigation, 2,449,000 tons were transported.

The Constitution of 1874 COMPARED WITH THE PROPOSED NEW Constitution of 1970

(TO BE VOTED ON IN GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 3, 1970)

Below is a comparison of the 1874 and 1970 Constitutions on the subject of finance and taxation (continued).

1874 CONSTITUTION

1970 CONSTITUTION

State and Local Indebtedness

General obligation bonds may be issued by the state only upon approval of the voters of the state at a special or general election.

Unchanged.

General obligation bonds for any capital improvements may be issued by the county only upon approval of the voters. Outstanding capital improvement bonds cannot exceed 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of the county at any one time.

General obligation bonds for certain specified improvements may be issued by a city upon approval of the voters of the city. Property tax for support of bond issue limited to maximum of five mills.

General obligation bonds for any capital improvement may be issued by the city only upon approval of the voters of the city. Issue is limited to maximum of 20 percent of assessed valuation of the city.

Industrial development bonds may be issued by a city or county upon approval of the voters of the city or county. Property tax for support of bond issue limited to maximum of five mills.

Unchanged.

State Taxation and Appropriations

State may not levy an ad valorem tax.

Unchanged.

All property, both tangible and intangible, real and personal, must be taxed at the same rate. (Since it is impossible to enforce the provision, especially in relation to intangible property, it is ignored.)

Real and tangible personal property shall be assessed equally and uniformly. The General Assembly may be flexible in assessing and taxing intangible personal property.

All taxes in existence in 1934 (e.g., the income tax) may be increased only by a three-fourths vote of both houses of the General Assembly; other taxes (e.g., the sales tax) may be increased by a simple majority.

All taxes levied or increased by the General Assembly must receive at least a three-fifths vote of both houses.

Two-thirds majority of General Assembly necessary to pass appropriations except for State debt, necessary expenses of government, public schools, etc.; three-fourths majority necessary to pass all appropriations over $2.5 million except for highways, education, just debts of the state, etc.

Simple majority necessary on all appropriation bills.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES CONSTITUTION OF 1970

General Assembly allowed to simplify State Income Tax Returns by permitting reference to federal method of computing income. State would set its own rates.

Highway revenues to be spent for highway purposes only unless specifically diverted by a two-thirds majority of both Houses of the General Assembly.

Requirement that all tax supported bonds must be sold at public sale.

hard to change."

Among the "firsts" credited to him:

First man to broadcast from a ship; first from an airplane and first from down in a mine. No matter where he went a transmitter was set up to relay his broadcasts to the United States.

His travels often put him in danger, although he is reluctant to acknowledge the risks.

Last year, for instance, he did a special for television in which he went unarmed into a camp of New Guinea headhunters.

"I don't think of those things necessarily as moments of danger," he said. "I think the danger comes in other ways. I've been in airplane crashes and what could be more danger than that? Or being in a revolution and having a bullet go through your hat? But I don't think it's dangerous to go among headhunters."

As one of the first radio newscasters he was invited by NBC to become the first television newscaster shortly before World War II.

In a radio interview he recently recalled that he always arrived at the studio late and got only a dab of makeup for his TV appearance. "One evening I blew in just in time to go on the air," he said. "All they could do was slap me in the face with a large powder puff."

"What happened was another first. A lot of powder stayed on my upper lip and after I had been on the air a minute or two I began to sneeze. That first sneeze in the history of television I was told was the funniest incident anyone had witnessed on TV up to then."

Asked about his approach to broadcasting, Thomas said, "I've always considered myself as an observer of the human shadow show. I've never been a special pleader, but I've always been concerned. But as an observer I've always tried to avoid the gloomy. I've always been on at the same time, which is the dinner hour, and I didn't want to destroy the digestive system of America. I've always tried to end with something, not nonsense although it has been, but something light."

What's ahead for Lowell Thomas? More years of broadcasting, he hopes. He also is planning an expedition that will take six years to complete.

Opening lead—♠ 4

JACOBY MODERN doesn't work perfectly with every hand. South was too strong for a four-heart preempt and opened with one heart in order not to rule out slam possibilities. This time, the one-heart opening let East and West bid their spades and North had the choice of doubling four spades or going to five hearts. He elected to try five hearts and West opened the four of spades.

If you look at all the hands, you will see that, with a club opening, South will be held to 10 tricks but South received that spade lead.

He applied the code word ARCH. Analysis of the lead indicated a fourth best. Review of the bidding brought South to the conclusion that East held the club ace. A Count of winners and losers showed that he would have to establish dummy's diamond suit to make 11 tricks.

"How can I make this contract?" he thought. "Easy. I just make sure that West can't get in with a diamond. I will just trade off a diamond loser for a spade loser."

South played dummy's six of spades. East won and returned the suit. Not that it mattered what he returned. South discarded his four of diamonds. Then he drew one round of trumps and decided to try diamonds immediately, just in case there would be four diamonds in the hand with the last trump.

The diamonds behaved nicely and broke 3-2. Now South ruffed a diamond, entered dummy with a trump and discarded both his clubs on the long diamonds. His trick swapping had really paid dividends. He wound up making six.

The bidding has been:
West North East South
Pass 2 ♥ Pass 2 ♦
Pass 4 ♠ Pass 3 ♠
Pass 5 ♠ Pass 4 N.T.
Pass 6 ♠ Pass 5 N.T.
Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ K J 8 5 ♥ 2 ♦ A K 9 4 3 ♣ J 8 5

What do you do now?
A—Bid six hearts. This bid clearly tells your partner that you hold the kings of both diamonds and spades and second-round heart control. It is up to him to bid seven spades with ♠ A Q x x x ♥ A x x x ♦ Q x x ♣ A.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You open one spade holding: ♠ A K 8 7 6 ♥ Q 4 ♦ K J 3 2 ♣ 7 2
Your partner responds two hearts. What do you do now?

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

YES, BUT IT'S COLD INSIDE

You said the "No-Bra" thing wasn't hurting lingerie department sales across the country. A lot of my friends and I don't wear them any more because we're more comfortable—and we don't get kidding or stares either, because few people notice. It's a great trend.

Here are some suggestions for easing into this new style.

1. Practice makes perfect. Go without a bra first at home, so you won't feel "undressed" and therefore look uneasy when you go out in public. That's what makes people notice — you call attention by looking self-conscious.

2. Take one step at a time.

First at home "practice." Next, short walks in public—shopping is great because no one looks at you. Third, go without one about twice a week to school or work. Fourth, you're on your own.

3. Exercise is important. It firms the muscles and helps control the telltale bounce. Swimming is great for this, or any arm swings.

4. Clothes are important. Start with very bulky and loose fitting things, like sweatshirts. Then blouses covered by sweaters or coats or jumpers. Choose dark patterns at first—never white. And don't go for tight fitting sweaters—they're out anyway.

5. Remember, you aren't going braless to shock anyone or attract attention, but for comfort. And don't try it if you haven't the build for it. Only you can decide that. — GLAD I'M FREE

Dear Glad:

....And don't try it in extra cold weather. Two things that if you shed in winter make you freeze are: Bras and nylons! — H.

Dear Helen:

Girls like "Too Young But Not Too Young" really aggravate me. They make it awfully tough on the rest of us. I'm 15, a clean cut kid, and my father won't let me date because "I'll get in trouble." Then along comes this 13-year-old TYBNTY who says she is, and asks about an abortion. So where does that put me? My Dad (who reads your column faithfully) said, "See what I mean?"

(Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.)

Helen, will you please tell him that most girls at my age don't do their homework in parked cars, and we're not pushovers or wild, but sensible people who know right from wrong? Besides, the guys we like don't go around getting young girls in trouble.

Thank you. And in the future, please cool it about printing letters like hers! — DAUGHTER OF A FATHER WHO JUMPS TO CONCLUSIONS

Dear Daughter's Dad:

You've brought her up well-so trust her...And get to know the fellows she likes, so you can trust them too. — H.

And to "Daughter": Young teens do get pregnant and they need help desperately. If I can't contact them personally — and so often they don't give their names or addresses — I try to reach them (and others who are afraid to write) via the column.

...And to girls in trouble: Again I repeat—a stamped, self-addressed envelope will bring you addresses and telephone numbers not only of nearby homes for unwed mothers, but also of free legal abortion counseling services, if you so desire. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help YOU. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of (name of newspaper).

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It is billed as "The First Major Tribute to Mary Pickford and Her Films," and it almost didn't happen.

During the week of November 8, the American Film Institute will screen Mary Pickford movies, dating from 1917 to 1929, at its headquarters in Washington, D. C. If the star hadn't exercised her female prerogative, there would have been no tribute—next month or ever.

"It's true—I wanted to burn all my pictures," Miss Pickford admits. "I thought they were of interest only to my own generation, and I thought succeeding generations would only laugh at them."

"But I was persuaded that they were a part of the history of the American film, so I changed my mind."

She and her associate, Matty Kemp, undertook the restoration of the films, and they will be shown in Washington for the first time in their renewed state. In fact, except for a tribute given to Miss Pickford by the French government in 1965, the movies have rarely been shown since their initial release.

the national report on what's happening

By ROGER DOUGHTY

ANOTHER WINNER—Thanks to Stella Swakoski, a counselor at Los Alamitos High School in Los Alamitos, Calif., we're happy to salute 15-year-old Molly McGee as the latest winner in the NEA-Caravell Project Take Time to Get Involved contest.

Molly is very involved in helping handicapped children, having done volunteer work in instructing a class in crafts at the Crippled Children's Society, but still has time to do volunteer work at the Long Beach General Hospital. She's active in student government and is credited with having bridged the generation gap between students and faculty at Los Alamitos High.

Her counselor writes, "This effervescent, witty and yet serious-minded honor student daily reaffirms my faith and trust in today's youth." That's reason enough to be honored here.

So, to Molly and her counselor go Caravell watches, with a chance to win the grand prize later in the year. At the moment the top prize is an Accutron timepiece, but we're working on a few things that will sweeten the pot more than a little.

So, if you know of a teen-ager who has taken the time to get involved in a project that has made things a bit nicer in your community, let us hear from you, care of this paper.

FTC vs. RPM—The Federal Trade Commission, which has lots of interesting things to look into these days, is taking a close one at the nation's record clubs. Seems the "negative option" clause (which is the thing whereby you automatically get the records if you don't send back a card saying you don't want them) has ruffled a few feathers here and there. While we're no big fans of anything negative, it seems to us that the record clubs have done a good job of making discs available in areas where big record outlets don't exist and have also done a lot to keep classical records on the market (which is sort of roundabout, if the record companies didn't sell a lot of popular records, which they do through the record clubs, there wouldn't be enough bread around to support the cutting of the classics). Anyway, with all the other problems we have the record clubs just aren't all that much to worry about.

Bobcats in 6-0 Win at Magnolia

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Last night in Magnolia, the Hope Bobcats outlasted the Panthers, 6-0, on a mud covered field with light footing.

This raises the Bobcats season record to 6-2 with a 4-1 conference slate. Magnolia dropped to 2-6 for the season.

The Bobcats received the kickoff and started a beautiful show of offensive power from their own 37 yard line. David Johnson and Ray Wheelington acted as the workhorses, grounding out good yardage behind some powerful offensive blocking.

Moving down to the Magnolia nine yard line, the Bobcats stalled, and the Panthers took over on their own 18 after a penalty was stepped off against Hope.

The last two minutes no one threatened. The Panthers used some good running to drive down to the Bobcat eight yard line with 1:55 left in the game.

The Hope defense rose up and then gave the enemy no yardage in four tries to preserve the final 6-0 outcome.

The Bobcats had a hard night in the wet field, but overcame that and used a tenacious defensive effort to hold Magnolia to only 55 yards rushing. Outstanding on defense were Winston Franks, Lynn Norton, Clifton Peevy, and Ray Wheelington.

The Bobcats play host to Camden next Friday in what looks to be a rough conference grid battle.

Man Accused in Slaying Under Guard

By DOUG WILLIS
Associated Press Writer
SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Armed guards in pairs are posted around the clock at each corner of the building in which a young man is jailed on charges of slaying five persons execution-style.

Sheriff Douglas James and his deputies said they know of no threats against John Linley Frazier, 24, but are taking no chances.

Frazier pleaded innocent Friday at a tightly guarded arraignment on charges of murdering Dr. Victor Ohta, 45, his wife, Virginia, 43, their sons Derrick, 12, and Taggart, 11, and the eye surgeon's secretary, Dorothy Cadwallader, 38.

The armed deputies were stationed at the three-story downtown building housing the jail and sheriff's office a few minutes after Frazier was booked there on five counts of first-degree murder.

Deputies admitted only persons "with urgent and necessary business." Flood lights were installed for extra security.

Sheriff Douglas B. James' news conference was held outside to announce details of Frazier's capture at dawn Friday in a former "one-cow milk barn" a half-mile from the Ohtas' $250,000 flagstone mansion on a hilltop overlooking Monterey Bay.

Frazier had lived about two months in the shabby 6-by-6-foot shelter in a gulley strewn with wrecked automobile bodies, an investigator said. He was asleep and offered no resistance when captured by two deputies.

A deputy explained the security measures by saying, "We've never had a prisoner like this before."

HIGHWAY BOOBY TRAPS condemn motorists to death or serious injury, according to the Ohio Defense Association and the Ohio Claims Association. The two organizations are joined in a campaign to remove or correct hazards such as the above. Top left photo shows two traps: Steel pole should be behind guard rail and railing itself should extend to bridge abutment with near end buried in ground instead of jutting out like a spear. As things are, guard rail might deflect skidding car into steel pole. At right, end of guard rails could impale a skidding auto; it should be buried in ground. Steel post is unnecessary; sign could have been mounted on overpass. Bottom left photo shows "V" section called "gore area" because its accident rate is four times higher than most run-off-the-road accident locations. Steel post could have been set behind rail at extreme right with signs cantilevered over exit ramp. End of rail should be buried in ground instead of pointed like a missile toward errant car.

Everyone Voted for Bond Issue

CALIFORNIA VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A unanimous vote was cast in this agricultural community for a $350,000-bond issue to put up power lines.

The San Luis Obispo County clerk, Ruth Warnken, said it was the first time that a bond issue in the county had carried unanimously.

Twenty-nine of the area's 34 registered voters cast ballots.

Agnew Insists Inflation Is Under Control

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says inflation is under control but critics of the Nixon administration "jump at a one-month wobble" in the consumer price index to try to panic voters.

Pollution Meet Hurt by Fire

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A new county air pollution control law forced cancellation of the traditional homecoming week-end bonfire at Clark High School. So about 700 students will light candles—clean burning ones, they say—on the practice field where the bonfire had been held in years past.

Nurses Using Drugs, Long Hours Blamed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The executive secretary of the state Board of Nursing says many nurses in the state have become addicted to drugs because of shortage of nurses.

Mrs. Juanita Glenn told the Legislative Council Thursday that some nurses must work 16 hours a day because of the shortage.

In doing so, Mrs. Glenn said, "some nurses are taking pills to keep going during the day, and then taking another pill to calm them down for the little time that they have off."

Board President Mrs. Nell T. Balkman, in explaining why the board needed to increase its fees for licensing nurses, told the council there was increased prosecution of nurses for violations of drug laws.

Mrs. Balkman said that Arkansas has the lowest number of nurses per capita in the nation and said that some nurses had been found completely addicted to drugs.

Mrs. Glenn said that 10 nurses had already had their licenses suspended for drug abuses and that 16 cases were pending before the board.

Mrs. Balkman said that some of the means of obtaining the drugs could lead to dangerous results and gave some examples:

—A nurse had vacated her post on an intensive-care floor and had locked herself in the bathroom, leaving the patients unattended, in order to inject herself with Demerol. Hospital officials broke open the bathroom door and found the nurse on the commode with a needle in her arm.

—One nurse was found to have been substituting nitroglycerin tablets for the morphine she was taking. The nitroglycerin tablets were almost used for a patient who had just received eye surgery. If the nitroglycerin tablets had been administered the person would have been blinded.

—In another case, a nurse was found to have administered Demerol in such a high quantity to a patient that the person almost died.

Mrs. Glenn said, however, that drug abuse by nurses in Arkansas was not as bad as in other states.

Farmers May Be Paid to Burn Marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government sources say the Nixon administration is considering paying farmers to destroy marijuana growing wild on their acreage.

The proposed marijuana control program reportedly could be financed with Justice Department funds channeled through the Agriculture Department's Agricultural Conservation Program.

Under ACP, farmers can get federal aid—usually for 50 per cent of expenditures—for carrying out approved conservation projects.

So far, the White House Office of Management and Budget has refused to authorize ACP projects, although Congress approved financing at a minimum of $190 million for next year.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin has tried to get budget planners to change their minds. Part of his department's strategy has been to emphasize the administration's commitment to fight soil and water pollution.

"If ACP is cut out, there could be serious losses of federal employment in many areas," one government source says. "It is serious and hurting the Republicans in some congressional races."

Some officials estimate dropping ACP would mean the loss of 3,000 county agent jobs.

The source said "some influential Republicans" are working to salvage ACP.

Marijuana control ties into ACP with government efforts to fight the wild-growing weed in several states, mostly in the Midwest.

It is said to descend from marijuana crops grown during World War II when the nation needed a substitute for manila hemp.

Make-good Pot Camouflaged

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — Former Marine Sgt. C. L. Waldrep bought a metal pot at a post exchange while in Vietnam. On the container was a guarantee that the pot would be replaced if it failed in normal use.

Waldrep used the pot for shaving, stewing and just about everything until an enemy mortar attack put a hole through it.

He wrote the manufacturer, Ware Ever Aluminum Co. of Chillicothe, Ohio, and asked for a new one. Mortar attacks are all too normal in Vietnam, he said.

The company sent the sergeant a new pot, painted in camouflage green and brown. Waldrep and his pot are back home in Gastonia now.

Pilot Smashes Plane Into Church Shrine

SAN JUAN, Tex. (AP) — Thirty-three minutes after an anonymous radio warning that all Catholic and Methodist churches and schools in a wide area of the Lower Rio Grande Valley should be evacuated, a plane smashed into a Roman Catholic shrine here, killing the pilot.

Twenty-five priests and 40 worshippers were in the Shrine of the Virgin of San Juan Catholic Church when the aircraft plummeted into the roof of the sanctuary Friday. A hundred feet away, more than 100 elementary school children were midway through their noon lunch.

There were no serious injuries, but an ensuing fire destroyed the shrine, visited monthly by thousands of pilgrims.

Investigators said the plane was piloted by Frank Alexander, about 45, a former mathematics instructor at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo High School.

Alexander, rented the plane not long before the crash from Upper Valley Aviation Co. at McAllen. He was known as an excellent pilot who at times had served as a flying instructor.

Declares GOPs Try to Mask Failures

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew are preaching the politics of fear in an attempt to mask the failure of their administration.

In a speech to the National Press Club Thursday, O'Brien said Nixon "has failed to establish one real national goal, unless it be the election of Republicans next month and his own re-election 24 months from now."

"With our institutions under question and attack from all sides, our leaders seek merely to convert the ailments of our society—which they should be working to heal—into political gains," said O'Brien, former postmaster general and aide to Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

He charged Agnew was dispatched to the Republican campaign trail as a "programmed emissary to preach the politics of fear." Nixon now has joined him in "the mind-fogging magic of demagoguery," O'Brien said.

In an attempt to cover up the Republican administration's failure to deal with society's urgent needs, the Nixon-Agnew "combination has managed to drag into the arena of politics—into the scramble for votes—virtually every note of discord plaguing our society," O'Brien charged.

Referring to what he called "the politics of fear" practiced by the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy, R-Wis., O'Brien said:

"We hoped we had finally outgrown such national aberrations, but now, we are beset once again by the politics of fear. And this time the practitioner is not a single, demagogic senator, but a carefully orchestrated team of the highest office-holders in the land."

With the two-party system and U.S. society hanging in the balance, he added, "The art of leadership, to those in power today, has been reduced to discord, divisiveness, distrust and just plain demagoguery."

O'Brien said Nixon's relative recent entry into Republican campaigns in several states was an attempt to undo problems created by Agnew in several weeks of vote-seeking.

Despite Nixon's veto of a bill limiting broadcast spending, O'Brien predicted a Democratic victory Nov. 3. He said his party will gain seats in the House and some governorships and retain control of the Senate.

Singer to Wed an Executive

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Opera and nightclub star Marguerite Piazza of Memphis will marry San Francisco executive F. H. "Harry" Bergholdt on Nov. 8.

The marriage will be the second for the singer, who is the widow of millionaire William J. Condon of the Conwood Corp. Bergholdt is president of Distribution Systems, Inc.

Mrs. Nixon Has Simple Approach

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon has a simple approach to her political campaigning: "I like people and I would never be phony."

Ending a week of cross-country travel in behalf of Republican candidates, the President's wife said she was surprised some people think such campaigning is unusual for her.

She admits she has never been "clear around the country" on her own before, "but I've been in this since 1946." And she plans to be out again next week—in Indianapolis Wednesday and later in San Diego and San Francisco, Calif.

Asked how the campaign shapes up for Republicans, Mrs. Nixon said exuberantly: "It looks great."

Mrs. Nixon proved she's a pro on a day-long trip to Florida Thursday in which she shook hands with at least 2,000 people and got a warm welcome in return. She was given keys to two cities and the mayor proclaimed "Mrs. Richard M. Nixon Day" in Fort Myers.

She smiled, said "Hi, honey," patted hands, hugged youngsters, gave out autographs and 50 or so gold ball-point pens with her name on them, and posed for innumerable pictures with candidates and constituents.

It didn't matter that the main Senate candidate she came to promote—Rep. William C. Cramer—was off seeking votes elsewhere. Mrs. Nixon, touring with Mrs. Cramer, said, "I didn't expect him and knew he was going to be busy."

The day of campaigning left Mrs. Nixon looking unfruffled, her blue-and-white silk print dress unwrinkled and her smile undisturbed.

"I'm not dwelling upon myself," she explained her campaign composure. She did admit her right hand was "all dented up" with fingernail scratches. But, "These things never bother me."

Her day in Florida included appearances at two receptions in Point Brittany and Fort Myers where she stood each time for about 90 minutes without letup, shaking hands.

"This is what I love," Mrs. Nixon said afterwards. "I love to have a word or two with people and have a word with their children. I love people and I think that I completely captivate them."

Sarver's TV Report Is Criticized

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Correction Commissioner Robert Sarver Thursday received the criticism he expected after his appearance Wednesday night on the Dick Cavett Show.

State Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott said Sarver had done Arkansas more harm than good and charged that some of the commissioner's remarks were misleading.

"I think he was performing for the television audience rather than telling the truth about Arkansas prisons," Hendrix said.

Sarver appeared on the American Broadcasting Co. television show under equal time provisions to rebut criticisms of the state penal system by former prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton, who appeared on the show last month.

Big 4 Seeks Ceasefire Extension

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The Big Four powers have decided to press Egypt, Jordan and Israel to extend the Middle East cease-fire past its Nov. 5 expiration date. That done, they will work for a resumption of peace talks with an eye toward eventual settlement of hostilities.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant announced the decision Friday night after a 3½-hour working dinner in his office suite with Foreign Ministers Andrei A. Gromyko of the Soviet Union and Maurice Schumann of France, Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home of Britain, and U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers. Also present was Gunnar V. Jarring of Sweden, Thant's special representative for the Middle East.

The ministers were in New York for the 25th anniversary session of the United Nations. Jarring, Sweden's ambassador to Moscow, was recalled a week ago to try to resume his peace mission, which broke down Aug. 25 when Israel charged that Egypt was violating a military standstill agreement by moving anti-aircraft missiles toward the Suez Canal.

Thant's statement issued by a U.N. spokesman in his behalf, said:

"The four foreign ministers had a useful exchange of views with the secretary-general and Ambassador Jarring on the situation in the Middle East."

"They agreed to exert their utmost efforts to enable Ambassador Jarring to resume his mission at the earliest possible date; to search for possibilities through the agreement of the parties directly concerned to extend the observance of the cease-fire for a period to be determined; and to find a peaceful solution on the basis of Resolution 242 of the Security Council."

"The four powers will continue their consultations and their permanent representatives in New York will meet again on Oct. 28."

Resolution 242 set up conditions for a settlement and called for negotiations.

Since Aug. 25, Israel has repeatedly accused the Egyptians of violations. Cairo, rejecting the charges, has countered that Israel is fortifying positions within the standstill zone in violation of the plan.

The Big Four's chief U.N. delegates—Sir Colin Crowe of Britain, Ambassador Jacques Kosciuszko-Morizet of France, Soviet Ambassador Jacob A. Malik and U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost—already had scheduled a meeting for Oct. 28 to discuss guidelines for Jarring's indirect talks. All four were present at Friday night's meeting.

Christianity Suffering From Nerves

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The newly elected president of the American Lutheran Church, the Rev. Dr. Kent S. Knutson, says Christianity "is suffering a state of nerves but it's still basically strong."

It has "pangs of despair and sometimes is discouraged by its inability to handle the tremendous problems which we see all about us," he said, "but the Church is a very tenacious institution—a very viable and stable kind of community that will endure for a very long time."

Barge Traffic Up on Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Army Engineers said Thursday that barges carried 2,345,209 tons of cargo on the Arkansas River in the first nine months of 1970, compared with 1,847,820 tons during the same period last year.

In 1969, the waterway's initial year of navigation, 2,449,000 tons were transported.

The Constitution of 1874 COMPARED WITH THE PROPOSED NEW Constitution of 1970

(TO BE VOTED ON IN GENERAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 3, 1970)

Below is a comparison of the 1874 and 1970 Constitutions on the subject of finance and taxation (continued).

1874 CONSTITUTION

1970 CONSTITUTION

State and Local Indebtedness

General obligation bonds may be issued by the state only upon approval of the voters of the state at a special or general election.

Unchanged.

General obligation bonds for construction of courthouses, jails, and hospitals may be issued by the county only upon approval of the voters. Property tax for support of bond issue limited to maximum of five mills.

General obligation bonds for any capital improvements may be issued by the county only upon approval of the voters. Out standing capital improvement bonds cannot exceed 10 per cent of the assessed valuation of the county at any one time.

General obligation bonds for certain specified improvements may be issued by a city upon approval of the voters of the city. Property tax for support of bond issue limited to maximum of five mills.

General obligation bonds for any capital improvement may be issued by the city only upon approval of the voters of the city. Issue is limited to maximum of 20 percent of assessed valuation of the city.

Industrial development bonds may be issued by a city or county upon approval of the voters of the city or county. Property tax for support of bond issue limited to maximum of five mills.

Unchanged.

State Taxation and Appropriations

State may not levy an ad valorem tax.

Unchanged.

All property, both tangible and intangible, real and personal, must be taxed at the same rate. (Since it is impossible to enforce the provision, especially in relation to intangible property, it is ignored).

Real and tangible personal property shall be assessed equally and uniformly. The General Assembly may be flexible in assessing and taxing intangible personal property.

All taxes in existence in 1934 (e.g., the income tax) may be increased only by a three-fourths vote of both houses of the General Assembly; other taxes (e.g., the sales tax) may be increased by a simple majority.

All taxes levied or increased by the General Assembly must receive at least a three-fifths vote of both houses.

Two-thirds majority of General Assembly necessary to pass appropriations except for State debt, necessary expenses of government, public schools, etc.; three-fourths majority necessary to pass all appropriations over $2.5 million except for highways, education, just debts of the state, etc.

Simple majority necessary on all appropriation bills.

ADDITIONAL FEATURES CONSTITUTION OF 1970

General Assembly allowed to simplify State Income Tax Returns by permitting reference to federal method of computing income. State would set its own rates.

Highway revenues to be spent for highway purposes only unless specifically diverted by a two-thirds majority of both Houses of the General Assembly.

Requirement that all tax supported bonds must be sold at public sale.
